to the University of Pennsylvania. An exciting year lies ahead of you, and you shouldn’t miss out on one second of it. Skip the lines and get a jump on life at Penn by logging on to Campus Express Online: campusexpress.upenn.edu.

Campus Express at Penn® is your online one-stop shop for some of the most essential student services. This brochure will help guide you through all the services offered on Campus Express Online, including housing information, textbooks, transportation options, property registration, your identification card, campus dining and more.

Your PennKey
By now, you should have received a letter or email with information about creating a PennKey, your access to many of Penn’s online services. You will need your PennKey and password to log on to Campus Express Online. If you have not received this communication, please send an email to pennkey@isc.upenn.edu or visit www.upenn.edu/computing/pennkey.

Email Accounts
If your School offers online email set-up, you can establish your account by visiting campusexpress.upenn.edu and clicking on “Set Up Your Penn Email” prior to logging on.

Health Services
Student Health Service is committed to keeping you healthy while at Penn. Prior to arriving on campus, you will need to complete certain health questionnaires, submit information regarding your immunization history and ensure your health insurance meets the University’s requirements. Information regarding the immunization and insurance compliance process can be found on http://www.vpul.upenn.edu/shs.

Your PennCard Access Code
Your PennCard Access Code (PAC) is the four digit number used in conjunction with your PennCard (the University’s identification card) to access certain services at Penn, such as admittance to residential buildings. Your PAC has been randomly assigned to you. To find out your PAC to a four digit number that you can easily remember, visit: campusexpress.upenn.edu and click on “Get My PAC” under My Housing after logging on or visit: www.upenn.edu/pac.

Campus Express Help!
If you have any technical difficulty navigating Campus Express Online, please click “Help and Support” in the top left hand corner of any page and indicate the nature of your problem. A representative will respond to you within one business day.

Campus Express Center
During New Student Orientation, visit the Campus Express Center and get your life at Penn organized… FAST! See page 12 for more information and to learn about all the services offered at the Campus Express Center.

Please be advised that information in this brochure is subject to change. Consult Campus Express Online for the most recent information.

dining at penn

At Penn, we know our diners are hungry for more – more community, convenience, engagement, variety and thoughtful conversation. Penn Dining helps satisfy these cravings through our cafés, where students and Faculty enjoy meals together to maximize the Penn experience. With a variety of menu items that are cooked from scratch using fresh, seasonal ingredients, we offer delicious food to suit all styles of dining. We recognize that our cafés serve a diverse population with a wide range of dining preferences and our program reflects this diversity by offering a range of options including:

- All-you-care-to-eat cafés where you can sit down and enjoy a meal;
- Retail locations which offer grab-and-go items;
- An on-campus grocery store for those times when you want to create your own meal or get a craving for snacks, or want a to-go meal from the hot and cold meal bar;
- Weekly Farmer’s Market (during fall and spring) that accepts Dining Dollar$;
- On campus Registered Dietitian assists students with special dietary needs and offers personal counseling sessions;
- Kosher and Halal dining; and
- The ability to order to-go items for pick-up or delivery using Dining Dollar$ through the Tapingo app.

We also know that our student body is busy and can’t always eat on a set schedule. At Penn, students can find something open from 7:30 a.m. to 2 a.m. Whether you want an early breakfast, a leisurely weekend brunch, a late night study snack, or anything in between, we have a location to serve you.

Because Penn believes in sustaining community on campus, all first-year undergraduate students are required to participate in the dining plan program. Recognizing the important role dining fills at Penn, great care is taken to provide the highest quality dining experience.

What can I do on Campus Express Online?
Visit “My Dining” to:
- Review your dining plan options
- Sign-up for your dining plan
- Add additional swipes or Dining Dollar$ to your dining plan
- Change your plan during the Fall or Spring Change Periods
Your Swipes can be used to enter any of our All-You-Care-To-Eat dining locations, Gourmet Grocer and McClelland Express:

- 1920 Commons: Our largest dining café on campus is located on Locust Walk, right across the 38th Street Bridge. Serving lunch and dinner during the week and brunch and dinner on weekends.
- English House: This café, located at 36th and Sansom, offers a variety of cuisines, including Halal food at lunch and dinner.
- Gourmet Grocer: In addition to its retail offerings, Gourmet Grocer, located in 1920 Commons, has a new hot and cold meal bar featuring breakfast, lunch and late night comfort food selections that accepts Dining Dollar$, and meal equivalency swipes for late-night hours.
- Hill College House: Hill Café opens this fall after being closed for extensive renovations. The new café, located at 33rd and Walnut, features 9 specialty stations including our first ever smoothie bar.
- New College House: Located at 34th and Walnut, the dining program at New College House offers grab-and-go items for breakfast and lunch as well as traditional all-you-care-to-eat for dinner.
- Falk Dining Commons: Located on the first floor of Penn Hillel’s building at 39th and Locust Walk. All food is prepared Glatt kosher and under the supervision of the Community Kashrus of Greater Philadelphia.

Your Dining Dollar$ can be used to purchase items in Penn Dining retail locations including:

- Accenture Café: A small café located in the Towne Building in the School of Engineering and Applied Science.
- Houston Market: Made-to-order salads, fresh and sustainable sushi, gourmet burgers and fresh chicken sandwiches, pasta station, deli and pizza stations, made-from-scratch soups, weekly rotating cuisines featuring hot meals from around the world in our ‘Hemisphere’s’ section and vegetarian and vegan entrees.
- Pure Fare: Located in Houston Market, Pure Fare offers nutrient dense, healthy options.

- Beefsteak: Chef José Andrés’ vegetable-centric, fast casual restaurant showcases hearty, nourishing meals people can feel good about.
- Tortas Frontera at The ARCH Cafe: Conveniently located on Locus Walk, Tortas Frontera by Chef Rick Bayless combines high-quality ingredients from top local providers with recipes based on the diverse fare found in Mexico.
- Starbucks in 1920 Commons: Variety of hot and cold coffee drinks, irresistible baked goods, an expanded menu and late night hours.
- Gourmet Grocer in 1920 Commons: The on campus market and a favorite of the Penn Community.
- McClelland Express: Located in the Quad, McClelland provides a variety of freshly prepared breakfast, lunch, and late night comfort food to fuel your studies.
- Mark’s Café in the Van Pelt Library: Serving locally roasted La Colombe coffee.
- Joe’s Café at Steinberg Hall–Dietrich Hall: Serving One Village Coffee, along with its own “Wharton Blend,” fresh sandwiches and salads. Joe’s is also known for its weekly BBQs during the spring and fall.
- Pret A Manger: Located in Wharton’s Huntsman Hall, our newest café, Pret A Manger (“Ready to Eat”), is a sandwich and coffee shop creating fresh, handmade sandwiches, salads and wraps in-shop each day using natural, preservative-free, ethically sourced ingredients.

* Get a 5% discount at these locations when using Dining Dollar$

Additional Services:

- Healthy Lifestyles: Options are available every day in our all-you-care-to-eat dining cafés as well as in the retail locations.
- Special Events & Programming: A robust schedule of special events including Chef demos, Creative Cuisines, Eat Local Challenge, Low Carbon Diet Day, and celebrations of national food holidays.
- Green to Go: For those days when there is no time to eat in the dining cafes, our Green-to-Go program offers reusable to-go containers. Convenient for you; Good for the Environment.
- Dining that is both environmentally and socially responsible: A sustainable future for our dining program means flavorful food that’s healthy and economically viable for all, produced through practices that respect farmers, workers, and animals; and nourish the community. In addition, dining supports efforts to alleviate hunger.
Pre-Order Textbooks On-line
While some students use our online textbook purchasing system to ship directly to their doorsteps, many find it more convenient to have them pre-packaged and ready for pickup at the Penn Bookstore. After you register for your classes, log on to Campus Express Online and go to “My Textbooks.” You’ll be able to see the required and recommended textbooks for each of your courses, and opt to buy or rent new or used textbooks as well as purchase digital e-textbooks when available. We gladly accept Visa, Mastercard, American Express or Discover. You may also charge your textbooks directly to your Student Financial Services account. We also Price Match textbooks with Amazon.com and BN.com (excluding any marketplace or 3rd party sellers).

The Penn Bookstore has it all!
You’ll find the Penn Bookstore in the heart of University Square. When you arrive on campus, stop by for:

- All the basic necessities for your room or apartment, including lamps, desk/shelf units, electronics and bed and bath accessories;
- Penn apparel and gifts, including a vast array of sweatshirts, T-shirts, jackets, caps and other insignia merchandise;
- Starbucks, baked treats and convenient wireless internet access at our spacious café; and
- Books! More than 50,000 fiction and non-fiction titles as well as a variety of periodicals and journals.
- Do you have a Barnes & Noble member card? Use it for an additional discount on general reading books and Penn merchandise.

We offer affordable Textbook options!

Rent new & used books | Purchase new & used books | Purchase or rent digital textbooks

We also PRICE MATCH textbooks with Amazon.com & BN.com (marketplace & 3rd party sellers excluded)

For more information about textbooks, plus special discounts, event news, and more visit: www.upenn.edu/bookstore

The University’s Computer Store
The overall value of buying a computer through Penn’s annual Back-To-School Sale is very hard to beat. Free Download available to students for Microsoft® Office 365™ ProPlus
Students currently enrolled at Penn can download and install Microsoft® Office 365™ ProPlus free of charge. Microsoft® Office 365™ ProPlus includes Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook, and OneNote for both Mac and PC (additionally, Access and Publisher for PC are included). We encourage you to visit the “My New Computer” section of Campus Express Online at http://campusexpress.upenn.edu for details about availability, licensing, and download links.
banking services

Even though you have the option to choose any bank for your direct deposit relationship, you should know that Penn has long-standing relationships with two financial institutions that offer services you may find specifically tailored for your needs — PNC Bank and the Student Federal Credit Union (SFCU). These institutions provide students the option to link their accounts to their PennCards which allows the card to be used as an ATM or a debit card. Through “My Banking” on Campus Express Online, you can learn more about their offerings and apply for services.

PNC Bank

PNC makes it easy for Penn students to keep track of their money. ATMs are located conveniently on and near campus, and there is a Customer Service Center right in the PennCard Office. Plus, PNC offers banking tools developed especially for students, such as Virtual Wallet® Student, which provides checking and saving options you can manage online or from the palm of your hand.1 There’s even a branded PNC Bank Visa Debit card especially for Penn Students. Use it at ATMs to get cash or to make purchases anywhere Visa is accepted.

Or, if you’d like to make the most of your PennCard, choose to link it to your PNC Account, which enables you to use your PennCard as an ATM card too. There’s no charge to link, and it’s easy to do online.

To learn more, or open an account, visit any PNC Bank branch, go online at www.pnc.com/penn or call 1-877-PNC-1000. You can also visit us at the Campus Express Center during New Student Orientation.

Student Federal Credit Union (SFCU) at Penn

The SFCU has provided secure, efficient, and convenient financial services to the Penn community for over 30 years. As a credit union that only serves the Penn community, our primary goal is to prepare Penn students for financial independence and stability. We offer federally insured savings and checking accounts, access to the largest surcharge-free ATM network on campus and in the nation, loans at extremely competitive interest rates, and the chance to build your personal credit score through our Credit Building Program. Come visit us at our main branch in the heart of Penn’s campus, 3401 Walnut Street, Suite 431, or at the Campus Express Center during New Student Orientation. You can also visit our website at www.upennsfcu.org or call (215) 222-2604 for more information.

transportation services

The University of Pennsylvania is serviced by an integrated system of transportation options. Transit stops are never more than a five minute walk from any part of campus as University students have access to Penn Transit, Loop Through University City (LUCY®) buses, the Drexel University bus system, Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) and Amtrak.

Penn Transit: Penn Transit’s buses and shuttles can help students travel safely and efficiently throughout University City and with specified service boundaries that extend into Center City. Penn Transit Services are free of charge to all Penn community members holding a valid PennCard, as are the services of LUCY® and Drexel’s buses. Penn Bus East and Penn Bus West operate Monday through Friday from 5 p.m. to midnight, year-round except for holidays observed by the University. The Penn Bus will pick-up and deliver passengers only at designated transit stops on campus and at any intersection with a stop sign or light along its off-campus route. Penn Shuttles provide transportation to and from campus transit stops and West Philadelphia, Center City and Powelton Village within defined boundaries. Penn Shuttles run from 6 p.m. to 3 a.m, seven days a week, year-round, except for holidays observed by the University. A limited on-call service is available from 3 a.m. to 7 a.m.

Additionally, pennrides.com, sends real-time vehicle location information directly to mobile devices or computers and Penn Accessible Transit (PAT) provides transportation within service boundaries for persons with disabilities.

Online Property Registration

Help keep your property secure with Penn’s free property registration program. The program establishes a record of ownership and increases the chances of recovery if your property is ever lost or stolen. Your registration sticker will also serve as a visual deterrent. Visit the “My Property” section on Campus Express Online to learn how to register a bike, laptop computer, electronic device or any other piece of property with the University of Pennsylvania Police Department or to purchase a Penn Police recommended lock.

1 A supported mobile device is needed to use Mobile Banking. Standard message and data rates may apply. PNC Bank, National Association. Member FDIC

PNC Bank and the Student Federal Credit Union at the University of Pennsylvania are each independently operated financial institutions, and not part of the University of Pennsylvania. In exchange for the opportunity to promote its programs to the University Community, PNC provides Penn with financial contributions that Penn uses to sustain important student programs and other University initiatives.

Public Transportation: Full-time Penn students may purchase a PennPass for semester-long discounted travel on SEPTA, Philadelphia’s regional public transportation system. If you need to commute to and from campus - these discounts can save you money! For occasional use, SEPTA tokens can be purchased at campus token machines or the SEPTA Center @Penn located in the first floor of the Penn Bookstore. The SEPTA Center @Penn is also a great resource for information about traveling around the city on public transportation. SEPTA buses, trolleys and trains offer frequent service from the University’s campus to virtually all cultural, shopping and recreational venues throughout Philadelphia and the region. There is express service every half-hour between University City Station and Philadelphia International Airport.

Biking and Walking: Penn is a pedestrian and bike friendly environment. Most Penn students walk or bike to class. Penn also offers a Walking Escort Program through its Division of Public Safety. Walking Escorts are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, within designated boundaries.

Philadelphia also offers Indego Bike Share program, an integrated system featuring over 600 self-service bicycles and 70 bike-share stations throughout Philadelphia, with three stations located on Penn’s campus.

Parking: Students who wish to have a vehicle on campus may purchase a parking permit through Campus Express for a fee.

Visit the “My Transportation” section of Campus Express to sign up for a PennPass or learn more about all your transportation options at Penn.

You may also visit:
www.upenn.edu/PennTransit, for information about Penn Transit, LUCY®, SEPTA tokens, etc.;
www.upenn.edu/parking, for information on parking; and www.upenn.edu/biking, for information on biking.

3 easy options for mail and parcel service

Penn offers three convenient options for shipping items to (and from) campus.

Student Mail Services – Deliver packages directly to your College House
Mail and parcel delivery to Sansom Place and the College Houses is managed by Residential Services. All other campus mail is managed by Penn Mail Services. Besides providing special services to campus offices, Penn Mail works with the United States Postal Service and parcel delivery services to expedite mail and package delivery to campus.

Penn PersonalShip – Save money on shipping using Penn’s discounted rates
All members of the Penn Community have access to the University’s PersonalShip program which allows you to ship your express mail packages via UPS and DHL at Penn’s discounted rates, resulting in significant savings on shipping costs. PersonalShip is available for express shipping of domestic and international packages, or documents. Remember to use the proper campus addressing format for delivery to College House package rooms. See page 10 for more information on proper address format.

PersonalShip is easy to use. Simply enter in your credit/debit card information; fill out the requested information, print your shipping label and any other necessary documentation, and affix it to your package. Finally, take your package to any retail shipment location or drop box and you’re ready to ship!

You can access PersonalShip by visiting www.upenn.edu/personalship, clicking on the icon and entering in your PennKey and Password. Please read the information on the front page carefully, as it outlines important instructions for proper shipping.

Amazon@Penn – A secure, convenient and fast way to get your Amazon packages
Amazon@Penn, located within 1920 Commons, offers the Penn community a convenient location to pick up and return Amazon orders, including virtually everything one needs for university life. Additional benefits include:

• Prime Student and Prime members receive Free Same-Day Pickup for orders placed by noon and Free One-Day Pickup for orders placed by 10 p.m.
• Free and easy returns on Amazon orders.
• Lounge-style work spaces for student collaboration and charging hubs for electronics.
• Customer service that can aid with package retrieval, facilitate returns, and provide customer support.

on-campus housing

To confirm or cancel your housing, learn your room assignment and access Move-In information, log on to Campus Express Online and visit “My Housing.” This section will also provide occupancy dates and mailing address information. For specific questions about on-campus housing, please see the contact information for Residential Services on page 13.
To ship to Amazon@Penn, visit penn.amazon.com and click the “Activate” button, which will enable the Amazon@Penn location to appear as a shipping option at checkout. Shop for items you wish to purchase and choose Amazon@Penn as your shipping address during checkout. Items that are eligible for Free Same-Day Pickup will have a “Pick it up TODAY” message below the price on Amazon.com. You will receive an email or text message when your package is ready for pickup.

To learn more, visit penn.amazon.com or visit us in 1920 Commons. Our hours are Monday–Friday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday/Sunday 12 p.m. to 9 p.m. Amazon@Penn will hold your packages for 15 days.

Proper Address Format
In order to ensure timely delivery, all parcels and mail sent to campus must use the official United States Postal Service address format. Visit the “My Housing” section of Campus Express Online and click “View My Assignment” to see the proper address format for your residence on campus to help ensure timely delivery of your mail.

Please be sure to use the College House and Sansom Place street address and zip plus 4 that is provided under “View My Assignment” on Campus Express Online. The College House Abbreviation and Building Code will be different for every College House and Sansom Place. It is essential that your mail box number appear after the College House abbreviation, or mail may be returned to sender. For specific questions about student mail, please see the contact information for Residential Services on page 13.

Important Note: USPS “delivery confirmation” mail sent to campus is confirmed upon arrival at the Philadelphia Post Office and before delivery to the Penn campus. In other words, a USPS confirmation of arrival does not confirm delivery to campus.

PennCard—one card many services

In addition to being the required identification for members of the University community, your PennCard provides access to University facilities, services and more.

Apply for Your PennCard Online
The fastest and easiest way to submit your photo and PennCard application is to go to Campus Express Online and click “Apply for PennCard” in the “My PennCard” section. You can also see your Penn ID number online.

PennCard photos are also used for academic purposes so please note that your professors, advisors and other University personnel may see the photo you submit.

- Color photo taken within the past 6 months (passport-like photo)
- Full face, front view (no sunglasses, hats, over or underexposure, etc.)
- Everyday attire
- Plain white or neutral background
- Approximately 2”x 2” in size
- The image from the bottom of the chin to the top of the head should be between 1” and 1¼”
Use your PennCard for:
- Official Penn photo identification
- Penn ID number
- PennCash
- College House and Sansom Place access
- Library services
- Penn Transit services
- Dining plans and Dining Dollar$
- Gyms and recreational facility access
- Student Financial Services account charge privileges
- ATM and bank debit card privileges
- Valid voter ID card in the state

PennCash
PennCash, a feature on all PennCards, is a declining balance account. Use your PennCash to purchase goods and services instead of using cash.

PennCash is used for many campus services, including copying and printing, retail dining locations, campus dining halls, many vending machines and at campus stores, including the Penn Bookstore and Penn Computer Connection. Using PennCash is easy. Activate PennCash simply by adding value to your account via “My PennCard” on Campus Express Online.* Once there, you may use a credit card or your Student Financial Services line of credit to transfer funds into your PennCash account. You can also view your account balances and grant deposit-only access to family members so that they may add value to your account using the secure website.

* Please allow about two weeks for processing time after you submit your PennCard application before using the online deposit function.

Link your PennCard to your bank
Your PennCard can also be used as an ATM card and as a bank debit card. By linking your PennCard to your checking or savings account at one of our partner financial institutions, you eliminate the need to carry an extra card to access your money. To activate these features, you must have an account with PNC Bank or the Student Federal Credit Union (SFCU). Please visit the Banking Services section on page 6 for more information on these institutions. Students have lots of banking alternatives available. There is no requirement at Penn for you to choose any particular bank and you should consider your needs and options carefully.
